Finding a qualified agent can make all the difference...

ALL AGENTS ARE NOT CREATED EQUAL!

The busier, the better. You may think that working with an agent who doesn't sell often will give you more individualized attention. The truth is that top producers are better educated about a constantly changing market. They price homes correctly to get the most money for their clients in the least amount of time. And they have a larger network of buyers and sellers to get the word out fast!

Nothing beats local expertise. Agents are licensed to sell anywhere in their home state, but lack intimate knowledge of geographic areas beyond their home territory. Working with a local, top producing agent is the single best way to get the highest return on your investment.

Knowledge is key. What degrees and certifications should a real estate professional have? A top agent keeps current with coursework, seminars and designations. They have superior technology skills and have mastered web and video-based marketing solutions.

LET US DO THE SCREENING FOR YOU!

As a service to our friend's and clients, Tammy and her team will screen local agents anywhere in the United States! We will search every major real estate brokerage to find you the most qualified agents to meet your specific buying or selling needs.
